

Humble hints

I recently overhauled the Sender Unit fixed into the top of the petrol tank on my Opal. The assembly had not been touched for many years and had subsequently seized. After a very delicate and careful dis-assembly, the arm was still seized in the body and no matter how much encouragement that I gave it, it would still not move. An emergency meeting was convened on a Club night. More penetrating Oil (Bob Garrett), a little gentle heat from a heat gun (Eddie Loader), some liquid metal polish mixed with the penetrating oil (Ray Moses).

The result is a free moving Sender Unit now fully tested and re-assembled into the Tank.
